Group Goetz Architects will move into its new headquarters at 2900 K St. NW on Jan. 5.

The space, located in the Carlyle Group's 135,000-square-foot building, is located next to the House of Sweden. The architecture firm is moving from 2000 L St. NW.

The 16,000-square-foot office, which earned a platinum certification from the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) program, will have an open floor plan.

Amenities include a health club, individual temperature control and daylight controlled lighting.

The new space will also have a high-tech conference center with wine bar, espresso bar, fireplace and library.

“We hope that our new office will serve as an example for other businesses to improve their social, ecological and financial performance by greening their space,” said Lewis Goetz, president and chief executive, in a statement.
